When York-Poquoson deputies tried to arrest a man after a May traffic stop, police said the man went for one officer's Taser.

On May 16, two deputies from York-Poquoson Sheriff's stopped a driver in the 2200 block of Richmond Road for a traffic violation.

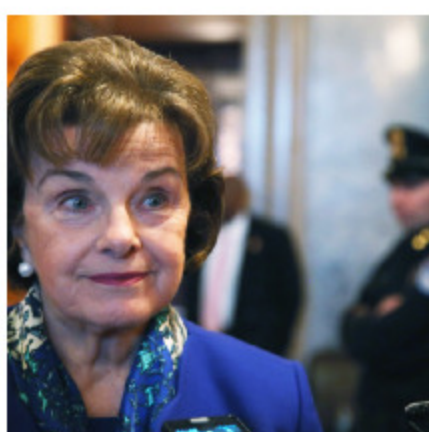

Police said when the driver got out of the car, he refused to cooperate with deputies or provide his identification.

The deputies told the driver he was being arrested. He tried to escape and assaulted one police officer and tried to disarm one deputy of a Taser, police said.

He was eventually arrested with the help of additional officers, police said.

Police later identified the man as Luis Ariza Estrada. His charges include DUI, resisting arrest, assault and battery of a police officer, possession of marijuana, possession of a controlled substance, driving with a suspended or revoked license and a license plate offense.

As of Monday, Estrada remained in Virginia Peninsula Regional Jail.
